Federal Income Tax Withholding Election:

Withholding is based on the portion of the loan or withdrawal that is includible in your income subject to federal income tax if this portion exceeds $200 on an annual basis. There is no withholding on the portion that represents a return of your own non-deductible contribution to the contract.

Distributions from annuities are subject to federal income tax withholding unless you elect not to have withholding apply. Withholding is based on the portion of the withdrawal that is includible in your income subject to federal income tax if this portion exceeds $200 on an annual basis (calendar year withdrawals are aggregated). There is not withholding on the portion that represents a return of your own non-deductible contribution to the contract.

Your election may be changed at any time by written notice to the Company. If you elect not to have withholding applied or if you do not have enough federal income tax withheld from your loans, you may be responsible for payment of estimated taxes. You may incur penalties under the estimated tax rules if your withholding and estimated tax payments are not sufficient.

Indexed Policies Only

Depending on when you request a Policy Loan, you may have the option to select either a Standard Policy Loan or a Variable Interest Loan. Below you will find a general description of both loan types. Please see your policy for additional details.

Standard Policy Loans

The interest rate charged on Standard Policy Loans is declared by North American, but will never be more than the maximum standard policy loan interest rate printed in your policy.

The interest rate credited to the loaned portion of your Policy Fund Value will equal the guaranteed interest rate printed in your policy (typically 3% per year).

The net cost of a loan is the difference between the interest rate charged and the interest rate credited. The maximum net cost of the loan for standard loans is the difference between the maximum standard policy loan interest rate and the guaranteed interest rate for the Fixed Account.

Starting in the initial policy year for Zero Cost Loans printed in your policy (typically policy year 6), the interest rate charged on Standard Policy Loans will be the same as the interest rate credited on the loaned portion of your Policy Fund Value. In this case, the net cost of the loan is 0%.

In brief, Standard Policy Loans are predictable since the net cost of the loan falls in a very narrow range (and the net cost is guaranteed for Zero Cost Loans).

If your policy contains a premium guarantee account that extends the death benefit guarantee on your policy; taking a loan or withdrawal could cause the length of your death benefit guarantee to be reduced, and in some cases the death benefit guarantee may be terminated.

Variable Interest Loans (Index products only)

The interest rate charged on a Variable Interest Loan is tied to a Published Monthly Average (Moody's), but will never be more than the maximum variable loan interest rate shown in the policy (typically 10% per year). The interest rate can change on each policy anniversary based on the current Published Monthly Average.

Under Variable Interest Loans, the loaned portion of your Policy Fund Value will continue to earn interest and index credits based on the allocation of money to the Fixed Account and the Index Selections. The credits could be more or less than the interest charged on the policy loan.

The net cost of a variable interest loan could be negative if the credits earned are greater than the interest charged. The net cost of the loan could also be larger than under standard policy loans if the amount credited is less than the interest charged. In the extreme example, the amount credited could be zero and the net cost of the loan would equal the interest rate charged on variable interest loans (which has a maximum of 10%).

In brief, Variable Interest Loans have more uncertainty in both the interest rate charged and the interest rate credited.
